CITY MATTERS.

Mrs. J. V. B. Hoyle went East last Monday evening.

Urbanus Ginn: "Dr. J. F. Marley and wife, of Springfield, are the guests of Mrs. Hattie Read, of East Church street."

Miss Lura Baker, who has been very low with typhoid fever, is still in a critical condition, but shows slight improvement.

Wiley M. E. church art loan exhibition, announced to open next week, has been postponed until some time in May on account of the impossibility of getting ready earlier.

Married: At the Methodist Protestant parsonage, on Pleasant street, on the evening of March 12, 1885, by Rev. J. B. Walker, Mr. George S. Parsons and Miss Sarah Collins. All of this city.

Dr. Robert H. Grube, who lives near Evansville, Ind., who was formerly connected with the old Republic, is spending a few days in the city, among his old friends. He came to attend his grandmother Grube's funeral.

Two gentlemen named D. R. Hess and H. C. Rhoades, of Johnston, Pa., are in the city prospecting for a suitable location for a skating rink. They were inspecting the old wigwam yesterday, but we do not know with what result.

A very pleasant surprise party was tendered Messrs. Henry Bryce and W. G. Smith at the residence of Mrs. Gove, on the North Side, last Thursday evening. These gentlemen have been actively engaged in Snow Hill Union Sunday-school, and the good will of the people was plainly manifested in their united effort to make the evening most pleasant one. An excellent supper was enjoyed by the many guests present. Mr. Bryce will leave for Chattanooga, Tenn., the 18th inst., and Mr. Smith will leave in a few days to spend the spring vacation.

Prof. F. P. Davidson has charge of the spelling class in the preparatory department of Wittenberg College. At the beginning of the term it was announced that a prize would be presented to the best speller in the department. As a result the class became unusually large, and most excellent work was done. The prize, Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, has just been awarded to Thomas Penfield, of this city, he having mispelled only one word during the entire term. Next to him stand O. G. Skilling, also of Springfield, who missed four words.

The annual reports of the officers of the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and Indianapolis Railway Company were submitted today. Gross earnings for the year ending December 31, 1884, were $8,811,742, and expenses and interest, $3,518,526. The decrease in gross earnings compared with 1883 was 12.1 per cent., and in gross tonnage 7 per cent. The bonded debt of the company was increased during the year by $1,521,000, and now stands at $8,516,000. The cause of the increase was for the purpose of securing control of lines between Indianapolis and St. Louis.

The staff correspondent of the Ohio State Journal, writing from Xenia, says:

Colonel Cones Kinney is still here, confined to his house, and much of the time to his bed, with what has been a grievous illness. Today he was reported as considerably better, both by his physician and his family; and the numerous friends of this well-known and talented gentleman will heartily rejoice to learn of his complete recovery, and of his return to the field of journalism, where he has accomplished such strong and effective work. There are those, however, who think that, even if completely restored to health, Colonel Kinney will not resume the heavy labors of the past, but will make some arrangement in regard to the Springfield Globe-Republic that will make his own work thereon comparatively light.

Hon. John Little, of Xenia, our new Representative, has issued a letter notifying persons concerned that there will be a competitive examination of applicants for appointment to a cadetship at West Point, for the Eighth district, held at the union high school building, in Xenia, on Thursday, April 30, 1885, at 2 o'clock. A principal and an alternate will be designated by the examiners for appointment, according to merit as disclosed by the examination. All applicants must have satisfactory testimonials of good moral character. The appointees must be between 17 and 22 years old, not under 5 feet in height, of sound constitution, and be able to pass a good examination in reading, writing, orthography, arithmetic, grammar, geography and history of the United States.

FORGIVENESS.

To the Editor of the Globe-Republic:

Please explain to the Springfield Transcript that if the amounts given of receipts of post-offices are no nearer correct than this one, they are not very reliable. Instead of $4.01, multiply by 45, and the report will be accepted. About good guess for a Democratic paper; pretty near as near as the talk about a good time for the next four years.

Mixed School Bill Passes the House. At three o'clock yesterday afternoon W. S. Newberry, Esq., received the following telegram:

COLUMBUS, O., March 13, 1885. W. S. Newberry, Attorney at Law: Will pass the House repealing Section 4008 absolutely. Will be home tomorrow evening. JOHN H. LITTLER.

Participants of proceedings in the House of Representatives attending the action indicated in this telegram, abolishing separate schools for white and colored children, will be found in the report printed elsewhere, of yesterday's doings in the Legislature, and will be read with interest. There is, however, a feeling of some confidence here that the bill will eventually pass the Senate also and become a law. At all events, an important advance has been made in the direction sought by the framers of the bill. If it can be kept from asphyxiation in a Senate committee pigeon-hole, the measure is likely to come up in that body for a vote on its merits, before long, when we shall see what we shall see.

A pleasant and complete surprise party was given Miss Jessie Parsons, 106 South Yellow Springs street, on Friday evening, March 13 (her 15th birthday), by the L. S. D. F. Society, of which she is a member. Those present were Misses Nellie Schaeffer, Florence Caviller, Hattie Schaeffer, Lizzie Mast, Florence Kinney, Ollie Stafford, Alice Winwood, Jessie Weimer, Florence Mast, Mattie Scott, Mary Rockwater, Eugenia Crane, Clara Blazier, Clara Rouse, Master Otis Parsons, and a number of "old folks" who dropped in to see the fun. A most enjoyable evening was spent, jollity and merriment ruling the hour. An elegant supper was served, and all departed well pleased with the evening's entertainment and wishing Miss Jessie many happy returns.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Dreams" at the Grand tonight.

"Octoroon" at Black's this evening.

Another Suggestion.

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 13, 1885. To the Editor of the Globe-Republic: Sir:—While so much is being said in regard to the best available site for our "public building," allow me through your columns to make a suggestion. There is on the west side of Market Square about forty-eight feet more space than would be required for street purposes, provided Market street was straightened so as to make its western boundary from Washington to High street conform to its western boundary from High to Main streets. Why not straighten Market street clear through by putting both the government building and the proposed market house upon this ground, purchasing so much of the ground lying on the west as would be necessary for a passage way on the west? This would add greatly to the beauty of our city. J. S. NIXON.

THE STATION-HOUSE.

The station-house was well-filled again last night. This hostility seems to be making rapid advance in public estimation lately, and, indeed, it ought to do so with two such gentlemen as Billy Woods and Colonel Dotson always looking after the safety and comfort of the guests. It is fast taking rank as one of the leading hotels of Springfield. The arrivals last night are given below.

Benjamin Burns, disorderly. Benjamin has a boy. This boy is not out on the Moody and Sankey plan at all, which is a source of much tribulation to Benjamin. Last night Benjamin interviewed his boy on the subject of regeneration. A man who happened to be in the neighborhood heard some of the arguments used, and, thinking they were too forcible, interfered. Benjamin thereupon used his strongest argument, that is the butt end of the whip, upon the interloper, laying the latter's head open in quite a scientific manner. Dr. McLaughlin repaired the head, and Ben, repaid to the station-house. It is but just to say that, in the estimation of many people, Mr. Ben. Burns is justified in doing almost anything to his young hopeful.

James Daugherty was brought to the station-house filled to overflowing with concentrated lightning. He claims to have been robbed of a watch while in a saloon on Market street.

Frank Clark, Mike Maloney, John Costello and James Kyle were brought in from Loggona by the patrol wagon last night. For more particulars concerning them see another place in our columns.

ELECTRIC LIGHT DISPLAY.

The northern part of the city was flooded with electric light display last night, from fifty electric street lamps disposed in the vicinity of the new power house of the Champion Electric Light Co., on West North street, to test the new machinery just put into operation. This consists of four dynamos, of the Thomson-Houston pattern, driven by a Westinghouse stationary engine, a novelty and wonder in its way, itself. There was a large number of visitors during the evening, to whom the system, in all its workings, was explained by Mr. G. J. Melms, from Boston, Mass., who may locate here in charge of the works. The company, with the new machinery just erected has a capacity for 150, instead of fifty lights, suitable for out-door illumination and business house requirements, and a number of calls of the latter description for service, that could not be met before the enlargement and extension of facilities, will now receive attention. The exhibition will be continued this evening, with Mr. Melms in attendance. A reorganization of the Champion Electric Light Co. is likely to be effected shortly and the enterprise pushed.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Whereas, Our worthy brother, Schuyler Colfax, who was a resident of the South Bend, Indiana, who, at a session of the G. L. of the United States in 1850, was appointed chairman of a committee who prepared a degree to be conferred on the wives, daughters and unmarried sisters of Odd Fellows, which was reported and adopted at the next session of the G. L. of the United States in 1851;

Whereas, This duty assigned him, our worthy brother, Schuyler Colfax, has ably performed, as he has all other duties assigned him, in the interest of Odd Fellowship, to the best of his ability, we recognize him to be the author and founder of the degree of Rebekah;

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, to remove by death from our beloved Order, our friend and worthy brother, Schuyler Colfax, whose memory we fondly cherish, we desire to manifest our appreciation of his worth to our fraternity; therefore be it

Resolved, by the members of Fidelia Lodge, No. 12, Daughters of Rebekah, That we recall with pleasure the high worth and exemplary character of our departed brother, and heartily attest his generous well-doing and the excellence of his culture and accomplishments.

Resolved, That we deeply regret his removal from our Order, and deplore the loss of our fraternity he sustained in his death. And we tender the family our heartfelt sympathy in their present sorrow and distress.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, and that they be printed once in the papers of our city. And that a copy of the paper be sent to the family of the deceased brother.

Resolved, That as a mark of respect to our deceased brother we set apart Sabbath evening, March 20, to hold memorial services in the hall of the L. O. F., and that we wear the usual badge of mourning, and drap our hall with flags in honor of his memory. C. W. BRYAN, C. E. HOOPER, Committee. ANNA HOOPER, Secy.

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 10, 1885.

HENRY WARD BEECHER'S BROTHER.

The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher has three brothers living. One of these is the Rev. Charles Beecher, known as the writer of some of the most quaint and touching hymns in the English language. Another is the Rev. Edward Beecher, a profound theologian, far advanced in years, and living in Brooklyn, where he preaches from time to time. A third brother is the Rev. William Henry Beecher, who is spending the serene years of a mellow old age at his home, 6 Honore street, Chicago. Mr. Beecher is 84 years old, and, with the exception of the natural infirmities of age, is a hearty and vigorous old gentleman.

A gentleman who recently visited Mr. Beecher at his home, found him in an exceedingly genial frame of mind and by no means indisposed to talk about the relief he had obtained from the rheumatism, which for many years had been a source of trouble to him. In reply to question, the venerable gentleman remarked, "Why, you want to know about Athliphoros. It is the greatest medicine in the world for rheumatism. I had suffered with that disease for fifteen years. My hands and my joints were swollen. I had much pain, and many sleepless nights. It took my pain away, and gave me power to sleep. I do not understand me to say that my rheumatism is all gone. It would be a miracle if rheumatism could be entirely driven away from an old man like me, who has had it for years. I have some of it left, and occasionally I feel its pains. Then I take more Athliphoros, and the pains are driven away. Even if I can't entirely drive out the cause of pain from a man who has had it so long, it takes the pain away, and that is a great deal. Sometimes I had frightful pains at night, before going to bed. Then I would take a dose of Athliphoros, and I soon find the pain all gone, so that I could enjoy a calm and refreshing night's rest."

"I believe Athliphoros will cure chronic rheumatism. I know that it is a great deal for it; but I say it. A touch of old rheumatism like mine is very hard to cure. I know. But see my hands; they are much softer now than they were. I am free from the pains I used to have. I sleep well, and what more can an old man of 84 ask for?"

Mr. Beecher's daughter cheerfully confirmed what her father had said, and gave her testimony to the great advantages he had derived from the use of Athliphoros. For a number of years, Mr. C. L. Wetmore, of the well known wholesale clothing house of Messrs. Thompson & Wetmore, 151 & 153, Fifth Ave., Chicago, was greatly afflicted with rheumatism, which interfered not only with his personal comfort, but also with his ability to attend to business. He is now well.

Calling on Mr. Wetmore, at his store on Fifth avenue, the gentleman found him willing to contribute to his experience in regard to rheumatism.

"I am told, Mr. Wetmore, that you got rid of your rheumatism by the help of Athliphoros. Is that true?"

"Well, I had been for a long while troubled with rheumatism, and I had tried almost everything in the line of medicine. I may fairly say that Athliphoros finished the rheumatism, and finally overcame it. Some of the other remedies had given me relief, which proved only temporary and incomplete. It was not so with the Athliphoros. Since I have taken it I find that I have no more rheumatic pains, either to annoy me by day, or to interfere with my sleep by night. My rheumatism was at times very severe. All my joints were swollen, and were very painful. I was detained at home sometimes as much as a month at a time, suffering acutely and unable to attend to business. Now that Athliphoros has finished the rheumatism, I am happy to say that my sleep is good, my appetite is regular and healthy, and I am every day attending to business."

"If you cannot get Athliphoros of your drug store, we will send it express paid, on receipt of your check for one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not let it go. Write to us, else, but order at once from us directed, Athliphoros Co., 112 Wall Street, New York."

GORDON'S FATAL HALFPENNY.

How did Gordon happen to go to Khartoum? The first proposal to that effect appeared in the Full Mail Gazette, and it has been supposed that the idea originated with that paper; but the New York Evening Post says it has good grounds for believing that it originated in an entirely different manner—that Gordon telegraphed the editor of the Gazette suggesting himself as the man to solve the Egyptian problem and asking whether the editor would support him. An affirmative answer was sent, the editor represented "the paper" in an interview at Southampton, and the two or three articles which were supposed to be expressing the demand of the people were written by Mr. Stead in Gordon's own style and submitted to him in manuscript before being sent to London. The Post says: "We wonder whether Gordon sought divine guidance on that occasion by his usual method of tossing a halfpenny. If so, his fatalism betrayed him at the crisis of his life."—Buffalo Express.

There isn't a leaf of tobacco grown on the island of Key West, Fla., that all comes from Cuba, and is manufactured into cigars which ought to be as good as those of Havana, but for some mysterious reason they are not. There is supposed to be some fragrant potency in the air of Havana which gives cigars a flavor they can get in no other locality, but what it is, and where it comes from, does not exist elsewhere neither the tobaccoist nor meteorologist can explain. Tobacco grown from the same stock, manufactured by the same men in the same way, has a different flavor, or bouquet, as they call it, if rolled into cigars in Key West from that if it has done up in Havana.
